

Autism AppJam 2013

Kickoff! April 5, 2013

Welcome!

- ◆ We are so glad you are all here.... All 120 of you!
- ◆ This is the first (but hopefully not the last) Autism focused AppJam

What is the AppJam?

- ◆ A two week (ish) competition
- ◆ to make a functional mobile app
- ◆ in support of Autism Spectrum Disorder

What is the AppJam?

- ◆ A two week (ish) competition
 - ◆ Teams will be announced as soon as possible
 - ◆ Hopefully by Sunday night
 - ◆ Announcements will come by email
 - ◆ Judging will begin at 5PM Friday April 19
- ◆ to make a functional mobile app
- ◆ in support of Autism Spectrum Disorder

What is the AppJam?

- ◆ A two week (ish) competition
- ◆ to make a functional mobile app
 - ◆ Better to have something that works than something fancy
 - ◆ You can use any platform you like
 - ◆ At the end of the competition, you will demonstrate your app for judges
- ◆ in support of Autism Spectrum Disorder

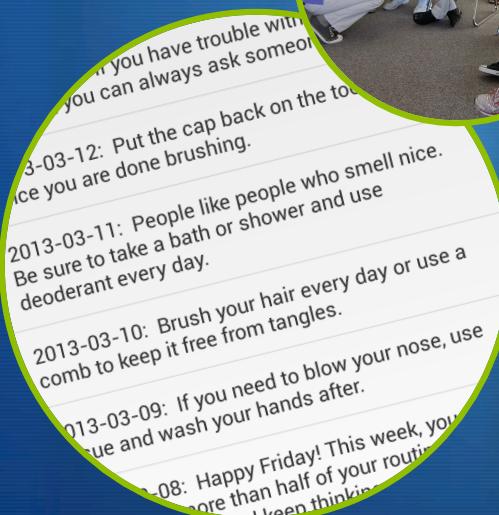

What is the AppJam?

- ◆ A two week (ish) competition
- ◆ to make a functional mobile app
- ◆ in support of Autism Spectrum Disorder
 - ◆ Ages 0 to 100
 - ◆ All levels of communication, social, functional, and life skills
 - ◆ All levels of motor, cognitive, and emotional skills
 - ◆ Think about who your app targets... it does not have to be everyone

Technology can enable inclusion
and empowerment

As well as help us to diagnose,

measure and monitor.

This vision requires engagement with teachers, parents, clinicians, and individuals with ASD.

Use your resources to learn about ASD and about apps.

Some places to get good ideas

- ◆ Our website: <http://thecenter4autism.org/appjam/>
- ◆ Our facebook page
- ◆ Your friends, family, professors, and anyone else you know
- ◆ AutismSpeaks app list:
<http://www.autismspeaks.org/autism-apps>
- ◆ The many “guest experts” who will be interacting with you by email and social media
- ◆ From amazing people like ...
9

And now a few words from Linda O'Neal

- ◆ More than 25 years of experience with students with ASD in the schools
- ◆ Currently runs an innovative program to introduce mobile technologies to students transitioning into the workplace

Rules

- ◆ Ideas
 - ◆ Taking them out
 - ◆ Taking from a company
- ◆ Rights
- ◆ Open Source OK
- ◆ NDA
- ◆ Deadline: Thursday, April 18 11:59PM

Expectations

- ◆ App
- ◆ Poster
- ◆ Reporting

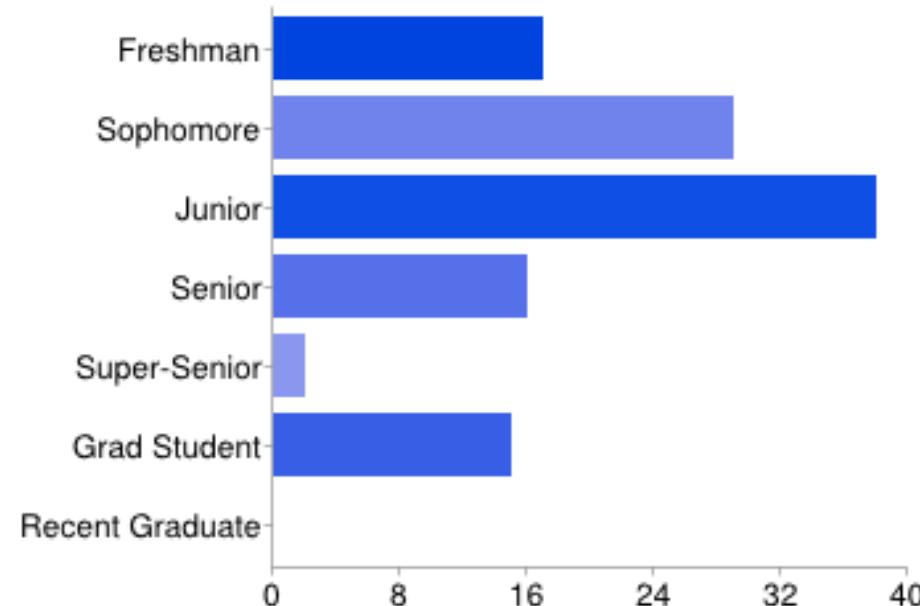

How we will help you

- ◆ Workshops: Tomorrow starting at 10AM
 - ◆ Design basics
 - ◆ Programming for Android and for iOS
 - ◆ Breakfast served, but please register
- ◆ You can contact us anytime through uciautismappjam@gmail.com
 - ◆ Facebook.com/uciAutismAppJam
 - ◆ Twitter: @uciAutismAppJam #autismAppJam
- ◆ The more information you provide us, the more press and support we can give you

Teams

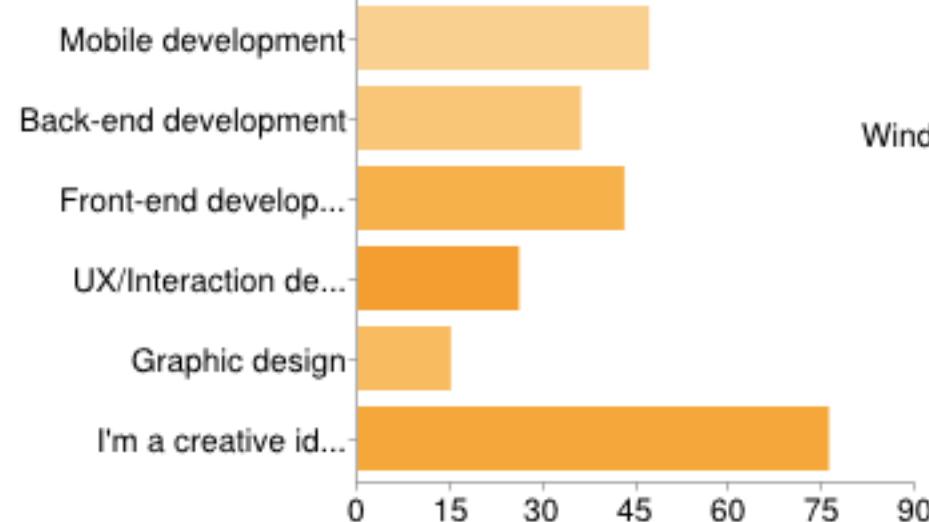

- ◆ Teams will be made up of four or five people
 - ◆ Mix of undergraduate and graduate students
 - ◆ Mix of experiences
 - ◆ Design
 - ◆ Development
 - ◆ Autism
- ◆ Teams will be announced Sunday night or Monday morning at the latest – posted online
- ◆ We will do everything we can to balance your requests with our need to make things fair

Year

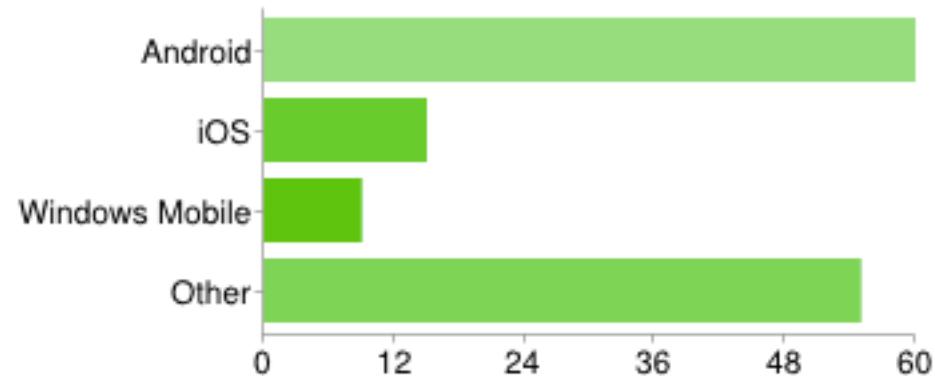

A little about you:

What you can do

Platforms

Prizes

Panel of Past AppJam Competitors

- ◆ Matthew Chan, Informatics Graduate Student
- ◆ James Heller
- ◆ Vincent Kwok
- ◆ Rebecca De Villez

Gold Sponsors:

PIMCO
FOUNDATION

ENGAGE • EMPOWER • INVEST

Microsoft®
Research

Silver Sponsors:

Tiwahe Technology

YAHOO!

ISTC•SOCIAL

Autism
AppJam